SOCIETY OF GYNECOLOGIC SURGEONS

MISSION STATEMENT

The Society of Gynecologic Surgeons' mission is to promote the highest standards for gynecologic surgical care for women in a safe, effective and ethical manner.

To realize this mission, the Society of Gynecologic Surgeons has as its principles:

- 1. To promote the acquisition of knowledge and the improvement of skills in gynecologic surgery.*
- 2. To enhance the understanding of gynecology and gynecologic surgery through basic and clinical research.*
- 3. To be a source of public and professional information.*

WELCOME FROM THE PRESIDENT

Welcome to the great state of Texas for the 37th Annual Meeting of the Society of Gynecologic Surgeons! Doug Hale and the program committee have put together a wonderful schedule of events with many opportunities to learn from, share with and enjoy your colleagues. The educational program this year has been expanded to include optional educational activities in the afternoon. I would like to highlight several activities in the program:

On Sunday, before the scientific program begins, there is an outstanding postgraduate course - Advanced Vaginal Surgery Techniques for the Specialist – taught by a faculty of expert vaginal surgeons including Drs. Mark Walters, Cindy Amundsen, Holly Richter and John Gebhart. Additionally, the Society of Gynecologic Surgeons Systematic Review Group (SRG), meets on Sunday to continue its work in reviewing the gynecologic surgery literature and producing practice guidelines for the members of our Society.

The official scientific program begins on Monday. As President, I had the pleasure of inviting Dr. Alan Guttmacher to be this year's TeLinde lecturer. Dr. Guttmacher is Director of the Eunice Kennedy Shriver National Institute of Child Health and Human Development and will speak on "A Genomicist's Vision for the future of Gynecologic Research and Practice". On Monday afternoon, Dr. Guttmacher will participate in a dialogue with SGS members and guests regarding the future of pelvic floor research.

During the meeting, Dr. Hale has planned a series of debates that promise to be both informative and fun. Topics include, "Uterine Preservation or Removal at the Time of Prolapse Surgery", "Ovarian Preservation or Removal at the Time of Peri- or Post-menopausal Hysterectomy", and "Robotic or Straight Stick Laparoscopy for Minimally Invasive Pelvic Surgery". Throughout the scientific program, surgical and educational videos will be shown. Due to the high quality and quantity of video submissions this year, there will be an optional videofest on Monday and Tuesday afternoon.

Tuesday morning there will be thirteen roundtable discussions including relevant topics such as mesh complications, fistula evaluation and management, laparoscopic sacrocolpopexy, robotic surgery, and coding and reimbursement. The roundtable discussions are very popular and provide an opportunity to interact directly with experts. Also on Tuesday, Dr. Christopher Beard, Chair of Vertebrate Paleontology at the Carnegie Museum of Natural History will give a thought-provoking lecture on the evolution of the pelvis entitled, "The Obstetric Dilemma of Human Evolution."

New to the SGS program this year are an educational breakfast symposium on Monday morning and a dinner symposium on Tuesday. It is hoped that the addition of these symposiums, as well as the optional educational activities in the afternoons, will provide attendees more opportunities for learning and interaction with colleagues.

Socially, we have planned a number of fun activities for members and guests including the traditional Golf Tournament on Monday. The San Antonio Fiesta occurs during our meeting and the annual fiesta river parade on Monday evening promises to be a good time for all! I also encourage you to explore the Riverwalk and take in some Texas history by visiting the nearby Alamo.

The Society of Gynecologic Surgeons is growing as more gynecologic surgeons recognize the important role that our Society plays in education and research. If you are a member, reach out to the many guests who are here this year. And if you are not yet a member, be sure to meet as many members as you can and consider submitting an application for membership. The guidelines can be found on the Society's web page at www.sgsonline.org.

I hope to have an opportunity to visit with each of you personally at some point during the meeting. Enjoy the scholarly and social interactions offered this year.

With all best wishes,
Joseph Schaffer, MD

CME INFORMATION

PROGRAM DIRECTOR - Douglass S. Hale, MD

TARGET AUDIENCE - Gynecologic Surgeons

PROGRAM GOAL

The goal of the annual scientific meeting is to provide member and non-member attendees with a forum for the latest and most innovative developments in gynecologic surgery. This will be accomplished through lecture, slide, video and poster presentations. Oral presentations are followed by a discussion and a question and answer session.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

At the conclusion of the meeting attendees should be able to:

- 1) Employ an evidence-based approach to understanding the advantages and disadvantages of surgical and non-surgical procedures used in the treatment of gynecologic disorders.
- 2) Discuss the current evidence of the benefits, risks and alternatives of new surgical innovations in gynecologic surgical practice.
- 3) List the advantages, disadvantages and appropriate indications for robotic and laparoscopic surgery in gynecology.
- 4) Discuss the benefits and risks of uterine preservation at the time of prolapse surgery in gynecologic practice.
- 5) Use evidence based medicine to decide on ovarian preservation at the time of hysterectomy in the peri – postmenopausal patient.
- 6) List several sources for obtaining NIH funding for gynecologic surgical studies.
- 7) Describe etiology and pathophysiology of pelvic floor dysfunction including urinary incontinence, fecal incontinence and pelvic organ prolapse.

Accreditation Statement

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the Essential Areas and Policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education through the joint sponsorship of the American College of Surgeons and the Society of Gynecologic Surgeons. The American College of Surgeons is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™

The American College of Surgeons designates this live activity for a maximum of 27.75* AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

 8.25 credits for the Postgraduate Course

19.5 credits for the Annual Meeting

TELINDE LECTURER

Alan E. Guttmacher, M.D.

Director, Eunice Kennedy Shriver National Institute of Child Health and Human Development
National Institutes of Health

In August 2010, Alan E. Guttmacher, M.D. became the Director of the Eunice Kennedy Shriver National Institute of Child Health and Human Development. Previously, he served as Acting Director of the Institute, beginning in December 2009.

A pediatrician and medical geneticist, Dr. Guttmacher came to the National Institutes of Health in 1999 to work at the National Human Genome Research Institute, where he served in a number of roles, including seven years as the Deputy Director and, from August 2008 to December 2009, as the Acting Director. In those roles, he oversaw the institute's efforts to advance genome research, integrate that research into health care, and explore the ethical, legal, and social implications of human genomics.

Dr. Guttmacher came to the NIH from the University of Vermont, where he directed the Vermont Regional Genetics Center and Pregnancy Risk Information Service, the Vermont Newborn Screening Program, and the Vermont Cancer Center's Familial Cancer Program, founded Vermont's only pediatric intensive care unit, and was the principal investigator for an NIH-supported initiative that was the nation's first statewide effort to involve the general public in discussion of the Human Genome Project's ethical, legal, and social implications. He also conducted research, taught, and had a busy practice in clinical genetics.

Born in Baltimore, Maryland, Dr. Guttmacher explains that he went into medicine because, as a middle school teacher, he became interested in the etiology and treatment of pediatric learning disorders. He received an A.B. degree from Harvard College and an M.D. from Harvard Medical School. After completing his internship and residency in pediatrics at Children's Hospital Boston, Dr. Guttmacher earned a two-year National Research Service Award from the U.S. Public Health Service and completed a fellowship in medical genetics at Children's Hospital Boston and Harvard Medical School. He is a member of the Institute of Medicine and a Fellow of the American Academy of Pediatrics.

On Monday at 10:45 AM, Dr. Guttmacher will discuss "A Genomicist's Vision for the Future of Gynecologic Research and Practice".

FELLOWS' PELVIC RESEARCH NETWORK (FPRN) MEETING

SGS sponsored multi-center research network for fellows, the Fellows' Pelvic Research Network (FPRN). The aims of FPRN are to create an environment for fellows to participate in collaborative research and conduct multi-center studies as primary investigators. The FPRN meets biannually to develop new protocols for multi-center research and to discuss ongoing projects. The FPRN is run by fellows with scientific support and guidance provided by the SGS Research Committee. Study results will be submitted for presentation at an SGS annual meeting.

(Invitation Only)

INDUSTRY-SPONSORED SATELLITE SYMPOSIA SESSIONS

Industry-Sponsored Satellite Symposia (ISSS) will be held during the 2011 SGS Scientific Meeting. The hosts met the requirements established by the Program Committee, and the proposed programs have been approved. SGS does not endorse the companies, their products and/or services or the contents of the presentations. These sessions will not conflict with the official scientific meeting schedule.
